

Please Post
POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA, TAMPA CAMPUS
SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The University of South Florida invites applications from accomplished researchers and scholars with a demonstrated commitment to one or more of USF's strategic priorities in community engagement; enhancing global literacy and impact; and integrated, interdisciplinary inquiry.

Position	Assistant Professor of Contemporary Critical Theory/Musicology, 9-month tenure earning faculty, position #4326, start date August 7, 2015.
Salary	Competitive and Commensurate with experience
Minimum Qualifications	PhD or equivalent terminal degree in either music theory, musicology or ethnomusicology, required at time of appointment; established research agenda with a strong potential of future productivity; teaching experience at the post-secondary level in area of specialization with secondary areas as required by school.
Preferred	Strong preference will be given to research interests incorporating a global focus or North American/European topics with strong ties to a global agenda. Evidence of potential for significant scholarly contributions to the field and demonstrated excellence in teaching. A strong interest in pursuing collaborations across the College of The Arts, the University and in the global community. Experience in advising/mentoring undergraduate and graduate students.
Duties	The School of Music nurtures a supportive community of faculty interested in interdisciplinary partnerships, global engagement, and critical thinking. The successful candidate will be responsible for undergraduate and graduate courses in area of specialization, as well as courses relevant to their experience and expertise as related to needs of the School of Music. Duties will include developing a broad range of research and teaching interests in any area(s) of music theory, musicology or ethnomusicology, with emphasis outside the Western canon being encouraged. The candidate will pursue interdisciplinary projects across the college and university, and establish a global presence through exchange programs for students and faculty. Exploration of new ways to train undergraduate and graduate music majors and contributions to curricular development based on research and teaching interests will be expected. The candidate will be active in service to the school, university and profession.
Application	Please submit application, vitae, cover letter online at www.usf.edu/employment and search for Posting Number _____. Submit 3 current references letters to musicsearch@usf.edu . Qualifying applicants may be asked to provide additional materials as needed. To ensure full consideration please apply by December 1, 2014.
School	The School of Music, a full member of NASM, is a prominent constituent of the College of The Arts. Current initiatives of the School include an expansion of national and international reputation, of research/creative productivity, and of graduate studies. The School offers the B. M., B. A., B. S., M. A., M. M., and Ph.D. degrees and has a full-time faculty of 34, 24 visiting and adjunct faculty and over 308 undergraduate majors and 100 graduate students. The USF School of Music has been designated as an All-Steinway School, with exceptional performance, practice and teaching facilities. The USF School of Music community represents a broad array of culture and ethnicity, and it is committed to embracing diversity in its curriculum and its faculty, staff and students. http://music.arts.usf.edu/
College	The College of The Arts offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs and enrolls over 1400 majors. Within the college there are four academic schools: the School of Architecture & Community Design; the School of Art & Art History; School of Music, and the School of Theatre & Dance along with the internationally acclaimed Institute for Research in Art comprised of the outstanding Contemporary Art Museum and Graphicstudio. Please review our home page at http://www.arts.usf.edu . For information regarding the USF System, please visit http://system.usf.edu .
University	The University of South Florida is a high-impact, global research university located in beautiful Tampa Bay on Florida's spectacular west coast. It is one of the largest public universities in the nation, and among the top 50 universities, public or private, for federal research expenditures. The university is one of only four Florida public universities classified by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in the top tier of research universities, a distinction attained by only 2.3 percent of all universities. At the heart of USF is a vibrant, diverse and engaged student body. More than 48,000 students are enrolled in the USF System, a system of three separately accredited institutions – USF Tampa, USF St. Petersburg and USF Sarasota-Manatee – with an annual budget of $1.5 billion and an annual economic impact of $3.7 billion. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference.
Community	The Tampa Bay Area has a culturally diverse population of nearly 2.9 million. Its historic Ybor City, the former cigar capital of the world, is a thriving center for jazz, blues and alternative music, experimental theatre, poetry and art. The University has convenient access to four major performing arts centers, including the Straz Performing Arts Center, the largest in the Southeast. The Bay Area also benefits from several local professional theater and dance companies. For more information about Tampa, please visit www.visittampabay.com .
Legal Notices	The University of South Florida is an equal opportunity, equal access and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply for this position. The search and selection process will be conducted in accordance with provisions of the Government in the Sunshine laws of the State of Florida. Meetings of the search committee are open to the public. All documents related to the search are available for public inspection. For additional information or disability accommodations please contact Amy Fletcher, Search Facilitator, afletche@usf.edu or call 813/974-3975 or FAX: 813/974-8721 at least five working days in advance of need. This position is subject to a criminal background check.